Is there really a need to reach out to Latinos?

Is there really a need to reach out to Latinos?

- Some 700 new Latinos arrive in Virginia everyday
- As many as 120,000 documented and undocumented Latinos live in Richmond and ten surrounding counties
- Among Baptists, eight Spanish-language churches and missions minister to them

With the conviction that churches start churches, LAMP utilizes a "cluster" approach to Latino church planting. If a sponsoring church needs assistance, nearby like-minded churches are recruited to serve on a sponsorship team. The cluster coordinates the outreach to Latinos in their community. Clusters are currently forming or need to form throughout the region.
